SEL is the process through which children and adults acquire and effectively apply the knowledge, attitudes, and skills necessary to understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions -- CASEL

Cognitive and metacognitive skills; social and emotional skills; and physical and practical skills --The OECD Learning Compass 2030

To simultaneously provide students with skills demanded in the labor market while preparing them for post-secondary degrees in technical fields. – US Education Bureau

We recommend that a student's career planning or career development model should contain three elements: "Self-awareness and Development", "Career Exploration" and "Career Planning and Management"

In terms of Career Exploration, students should pay attention to the development trends and changes in the world - Hong Kong Education Bureau

Schools should adhere to guidance, grasp the individual characteristics of students, pay attention to the growth process, stimulate the potential advantages of each student, and encourage students to make continuous progress – National Education Bureau

We encourage students to preliminarily formulate a further education plan and put it into action– Hong Kong Education Bureau
